

Doctors

Brittney Carpenter, DVM

Brittney Carpenter is a Tucson native, exceedingly happy to have returned to the Sonoran desert after completing veterinary school in the "Palouse", that is, Washington State University. Having the opportunity to help sick animals get better and ensure the health and wellness of the beloved pets in our community is the ultimate joy in her life. She is surrounded by a loving family that includes her husband and four furry critters- a Siberian husky named Tahoe and three endlessly entertaining cats (M&M, Aries, and Lexi). (With IRAH since 05/2010).

Roger P. Eagle, DVM

Dr. Eagle is an Arizona native. Roger attended Tucson High School and Rincon High School before pursuing higher education at Pima Community College. Dr. Eagle is an alumni of the University of Arizona, and Colorado State University. "Eagle" is happily married to Kynta and has a wonderful daughter, Talia. Our free time is spent with our critters... 2 dogs, and 2 cats... no two of which like each other (behavioral issues can be challenging...) Life at Ina Road Animal Hospital.

Abigail Kovarna, DVM

Bio to come! (With IRAH since 08/2010).

Liane D. Lunetta, DVM

Dr. Lunetta was intrigued by veterinary medicine from a young age and enjoys all aspects of this profession, especially surgery. She is one of the doctors offering abdominal ultrasound at IRAH. She is the mother of two boys who also share her love of animals. Dr. Lunetta is pleased to be back in the Southwest after a five year absence. (With IRAH since 9/2007).

Kurt Nausley, DVM

Dr. Nausley grew up in Missouri in farming country and knew at an early age that he wanted to take care of animals. This desire led him to the university of Missouri and to a DVM degree. After graduating, Dr. Nausley also knew he had had enough of the winters in the Midwest and changed climates coming to practice in Parker, Arizona and then on to Tucson. He is married and he and his wife Mary have a son, Soren who is 10 years old. They also have a wonderful, loving Golden retriever named Winnie and an incredibly rambunctious Corgi named Mario. "It's been an honor and privilege to practice veterinary medicine and I'm really pleased to be at Ina Road Animal Hospital where the staff, associates and management are truly exceptional." (With IRAH since 01/2009).

Brenda Reed, DVM

Dr. Brenda Reed grew up around animals and medicine (her mother was a nurse), so unsurprisingly she loved both. Currently she has three pets: Riley, a neurotic Weimaraner; Randi, a hairy Golden Retriever and FoPaw "the Queen of all tortiseshell cats". She has always taken care of her pets' ailments and is currently learning and pursuing alternative medicines (such as acupuncture and Chinese herbs). The most fulfilling aspect of working with animals is being able to see their happy, smiling faces. (With IRAH since 2003).
